

All Angels Foundation

I am excited to share the impact of the All Angels Foundation (AAF) in 2024, a transformative force supporting Saint Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church (Saint Michael). Our fundamental mission is to transform lives through acts of love, a philosophy we actively pursue both within and beyond our church walls. As stewards of over 20 different funds, AAF serves as the cornerstone of Saint Michael's long-term mission and community outreach.

In recent history, AAF has provided critical seed funding within Saint Michael for cornerstone programs including the Farmer's Market, Chorister Program, and vital personnel positions, while sustaining essential ministries such as Project Moses, Faith Formation, and Saint Michael Presents.

In 2024, AAF distributed $370,000 in grants supporting both internal church initiatives and external community partnerships. Within Saint Michael, we've made strategic investments like the $83,000 allocation to modernize the Youth Center's technology infrastructure.

Beyond our church walls, AAF awarded grants to 10 nonprofit organizations aligned with Saint Michael's mission. These partnerships address community needs in healthcare, homelessness, recovery, education, and rehabilitation. Notable examples include partnering with the Baldrige Foundation to fund a Licensed Vocational Nurse position at North Dallas Shared Ministries ($29,000), launching a Godly Play program at St. Philips School ($15,500), and supporting Housing Forward's Street to Home initiative ($30,000) to reduce homelessness by 50% in Dallas and Collin counties.

We've expanded our community impact through support for United to Learn, Elevate North Texas, Magdalen House, Cornerstone Crossroads, Unlocking Doors, and Dwell with Dignity.

Looking ahead, AAF aims to expand our corpus through planned giving to increase our granting capacity. To learn more about contributing through your will, family estates, or other gifts, please contact Alma Vega-Rouse, Director of Advancement, or any AAF Trustee.

Together, we continue building on our foundation of service and community impact, guided by our unwavering commitment to transforming lives through acts of love.
